Experience Hamilton County

A city where tradition meets innovation, Noblesville cultivates culture, commerce and community while celebrating a small-town charm with big-city attractions in nearby Indianapolis—providing the best of both worlds. Known for fast cars and blockbuster events, Indianapolis has gained acclaim for a flourishing culinary and brewing scene, thriving cultural institutions, cool neighborhoods and Indiana’s own Hoosier hospitality. Popular draws include four professional sports teams, the legendary Indianapolis 500 race, an internationally acclaimed Indianapolis Zoo, White River canoeing, 18+ miles of Monon trail biking and running, and the Indianapolis Museum of Art at Newfields.

At Riverview Health, we believe all deserve our help, whether they’re residents of Hamilton County or elsewhere. We believe in providing access to high-quality physicians, investing in advanced medical technologies and maintaining an atmosphere of genuine caring and respect. We believe in making people as comfortable as possible—whether they’re in for a routine visit, or seeking help for cancer, heart and vascular, orthopedic or women’s issues. And we believe that we’ve grown beyond our hospital roots in Noblesville to become a champion for health and wellness throughout central Indiana.
